FOUGHT ROBBERS IN HIS FLAT

KOHN SAYS THERE WERE FOUR -THEY DIDN'T GET $3,000.

Left Silver and Jewelry in the Hall-One Stabbed Father-in-Law Roth-Kohn Held Another While Wife Screamed Heroically-Cop to Rescue-Forks Safe

After the police locked up a slight young man, who calls himself Samuel Lewis, on a charge of burglary early yesterday morning, Emerich Kohn, in whose rooms at 1632 Madison avenue the prisoner was taken, told the finest story about a gang of daring robbers that has come out of Harlem in a long time.

Kohn's story deals with a gang of four, one of whom he himself fought singlehanded for nearly half an hour, and finally turned over to a policeman. Another ran away after stabbing Kohn's fatherin-law twice with a pocket knife, inflicting slight wounds. Two more took to their heels when the fighting commenced, taking with them *$300 in money, a gold watch valued at $125, two diamond rings and some silver." The police of the East 104th street station were surprised festerday afternoon to learn that the thieves had got away with anything. No loss had been reported to them, they said. They were also under the impression that there were only two burglars.

Mr. Kohn is a lawyer downtown and last fall was a candidate against State Senator Frawley. He and his wife and his father-in-law, Max Roth, live on the second floor of the flat on the northwest corner of 109th street and Madison avenue. There is a fire escape in the rear of the building, and up that the burglars climbed about S.A.M. The first that was known of them occurred when one of them grew careless in going through the bureau in Mr. Roth's recommend works him up.

in going through the bureau in Mr. Roth's room and woke him up.

Mr. Roth is not a young man, but, according to Mr. Kohn's story, he made a dive for the burgiar just the same. They rolled around the floor grappling for about five minutes or so, until the burgiar got his knife into play. It was a penknife, but it cut Mr. Roth in the arm and hip and he gave up. The burgiar then ran down stairs and out. gave up. The stairs and out.

In the meantime, another scrap was going on in Mr. Kohn's bedroom. The noise of the fight between Roth and his man awoke Mr. and Mrs. Kohn in time to allow them to see a man inspecting the contents of their bureau. Mr. Kohn grabbed him and then two more burglars ran in.

Mr. Kohn says there was a general mix-up and that he got a good grip on one of the and that he got a good grip on one of the three and went down with him. The other two ran downstairs and out the front door and Mrs. Kohn did her part in the struggle and Mrs. Kohn did her part in the struggle by throwing open a window and yelling "murder," "police," with great courage and determination.

Boundsman Monahan appeared and found Kohn and the intruder still fighting. Kohn says they had been at it at least twenty minutes then, and that in five more he would have been done up. The police of the East 104th street station say Monahan was "Johnny on the spot," but that is a detail. Monahan took the fight out of the crook by an application of nightstick and took him to the station house, where three silver knives and as many forks were found in his pockets.

sergeant, showing the knives and forks yesterday afternoon.

The prisoner, who said his name was Lewis, and that he was a tailor, 19 years old with no home, was held in $2,500 hail on a charge of burglary by Magistrate McAvoy in the Harlem court later in the morning.

After Monahan took his prisoner away Mr. Kohn found that his silverware had heen stowed away in a bag and taken to the hall on the first floor. Apparently the hurglars then returned and when they were scared off were in too much of a hurry to take the stuff they had packed up. The $300 and the diamond rings were taken from the top drawer of Mrs. Kohn's bureau. The careless burglar who ok these things everlooked $1,000 that we in the drawer coderneath, Mr. Kohn declared.

NEWPORT RAISES TAXES. New Yorkers May Not Like It, but the City

Needs the Money. NEWPORT, R. I., May 13 .- New Yorkers who took up their residence in this city on account of the low tax rate will find that, by the assessment just made, their personal property tax has been considerably ined. Although no figures have given out, enough is known to show that all along the line the personal property tax has been increased, and in some instances the increase has been very large. The city of Newport found that its income from taxation was not sufficient to meet expenses and the tax assessors were instructed to secure the amount necessary. As a result the assessors visited cities where the summer residents have their legal residenoes, ascertained what they were taxed for in those cities and have been governed accordingly. In 1904 the total valuation was $43,039,000, which has been increased was $43,039,000, which has been increased by the assessors this year by $13,587,700.

Mrs. Ogden Goelet will be assessed on more than $500,000 of personal property as the assessors were unable to find that she has everbeen taxed on personal property anywhere else. As far as is known, Mrs. Goelet's is the only new name put on the list, but a large number have had their tax increased. One of the notable ones is Henry A. C. Taylor. Last year he was taxed on $100,000 personal property. He is to be assessed in the neighborhood of a million. The estate of Gen. Samuel Thomas is another that is said to bave gone up into is another that is said to bave gone up into the millions. John R. Drexel will also be called on to pay a larger sum on his personal property; while James J. Van Alen, who last year paid on only $50,000, must also stand a raise.

The exact amount of the increase will not be known for a week as the books are party.

be known for a week as the books are now in the hands of the City Clerk and they must be certified to by the City Treasurer before they are made public. One thing is certain, and that is that the work of the assessors will cause a howl of indignation and it is feared that the city will have trouble in collecting some of the taxes.

WHITECAPS TRIALS PUT OVER. United States Judge Tells Them to Go Home and Stop Persecuting Negroes.

NEW ORLEANS, May 13.—The cases against the 314 Whitecaps of Franklin county, Miss., on trial before the United States District Court at Jackson, have been postponed until the next term of the court on the until the next term of the court on the ground that the defense was not ready for trial and could not get its witnesses together in time. There is a feeling that the cases will not be taken up at the next term of court, but that the Whitecappers will be let alone if they behave themselves.

Judge Niles, in announcing the postponement, advised the prisoners to go home, patch up the differences existing with their neighbors, quit their meanness, cease the persecutions of helpless and defenseless negroes and become peaceful and lawabiding citizens.

OUTLOOK AT SEA GIRT CAMP.

THE PRESIDENT EXPECTED TO REVIEW A REGIMENT THERE.

The National Guardsmen Said to Be Anxious

That the Regular Army Men Be Permitted to Practise on the Range-St. Louis Jersey Building Coming East. SEA GIRT, May 13.—President Roosevelt may visit Sea Girt on July 7 and review the First Regiment of Newark. The First Regiment has been ordered to camp on July 8, but there is a possibility that it will come here on the day previous, and as the President is scheduled to speak at the meeting of the National Educational Association at Ocean Grove on that day, it is thought there will be little difficulty in prevailing upon him to come here and review a regiment. The season for rifle practise will commence earlier this year than usual. This will be done in order that the New Jersey National Guardsmen may finish their work before the commencement of the big matches on Aug. 24. The Fifth Regiment, commanded by Col. E. W. Hine of Paterson, manded by Col. E. W. Hine of Paterson, will be the first regiment to come here for rifle practise. June 19 is the date assigned, for it. Following the Fifth Regiment will come the First and Second troops, the batteries. Signal Corps and other regiments. The practise will be so arranged that while the First Brigade is in camp the Second Brigade will be at work on the rifle ranges. Expressions of fear have been heard in and out of the National Guard that permis-sion might not be granted for teams of the Navy and United States Marine Corps to practice in the months. Navy and United States Marine Corps to practise in the months of July and August preparatory for the big matches. It has been said that the presence of the teams on the ranges interfered with the work of the Jersey National Guardsmen. In view of the fact that there are 130 targets on the ranges.

Jersey National Guardsmen. In view of the fact that there are 130 targets on the ranges, and it is seldom that more than thirty are used at any one time for the New Jersey troops, it is insisted that the contention is without reason.

The practise of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps teams on the ranges does not cost the State of New Jersey one cent. They are kept by the Federal Government, and provide all their own markers and scorers, and the targets that are damaged are replaced.

Many changes have been made for the better in the ranges. The triangular plot of ground north of the ranges has been acquired by the State, and it has been cleared of the growth of pines and laid out for a skirmish ground. Ten more targets have been added to the 200 yard range, and two more on the 1000 yard range. As soon as the work can be done jetties will be built to protect the butts near the ocean.

It is expected that the New Jersey building at the St. Louis fair will be ready for the Governor in July, as the first carload of material has arrived. Lieut.-Col. Albert S. Jones has been the right hand man and assistant of Gen. Bird W. Spencer, the Inspector-General of Rifle Practise for about twenty years.

college men was an experiment last year. The young men gave satisfaction, however, and this year there will be college men here from Princeton, Harvard and the City College of New York.

The trolley line, which has its terminus at Spring Lake, three miles distant, will be extended to this place. The bridge spanning the fullet at Sea Girt is almost finished, and the work of grading the road and laying the rails is being pushed. In all probability the line will be in operation by the middle of June.

ARIBERT SACKY RELEASED.

His Debt to Boarding Housekeeper Was Not for His Own Bill-Complains of Police.

Aribert Sacky, a Russian, who was arested in a Broadway restaurant on Wednesday on a charge of beating Mrs. Charlotte Day of 399 West Thirty-fourth street out of a board bill amounting to $83, was discharged yesterday in the West Side court by Magistrate Wahle.

It appeared that Mr. Sacky had voluntarily given to the boarding house keeper a nemorandum in which he acknowledged nself in her debt to the amount of $83, and according to his statement, which was corroborated, he signed the paper as an accommodation to a friend who had been boarding in the house and was unable to discharge his indebtedness when he desired to leave leave.

Mr. Sacky was not informed that the bill Mr. Sacky was not informed that the bill had not been discharged and his arrest without notice was a complete surprise. Mr. Sacky complains that from the time of his arrest he was treated as if the charge against him were true. He was photo-graphed at Police Headquarters and his measurements were taken by the Bertillon system. Cash bail which he offered was

FREEZE-OUT ON THE LUCANIA. Little Man Apologized to Big Texan After Threatening Him.

A tall Texan and a very short man from some other Southern State played a series of fifty dollar freeze-outs in the smoking room of the Cunarder Lucania, in yesterroom of the Cunarder Lucania, in yester-day from Liverpool, on the last three days of the voyage. On the final day the little man intimated that the lofty Texan had not been playing squarely. A crowd gathered around the players, attracted by the warm words of the little man, who threatened the big one. They got up, the little man looking quite fierce. Passengers closed in and prevented hostilities. The Texan contented himself with telling the little man to "close his trap." After working off his steam the little man apologized.
